

Professional Internship

Job Title

Technical After Sales Manager

Job Description

SOLYD Property Developers is one of Portugal's leading home builders, resulting from the partnership between Estoril Capital Partners and Oaktree Capital Management's European Principal Group.

SOLYD is focused primarily on distinctive residential projects (mid to high-end segments), located in historical and quality urban areas, in major Portuguese cities, namely in Lisbon Metropolitan Area.

Since mid-2015, SOLYD has acquired and been developing over 50 buildings/plots located in Lisbon, Cascais, Oeiras, Setúbal and Loures municipalities. The projects correspond to around 2,000 residences and more than 60 stores, totaling 440,000 sqm of Gross Building Area.

These milestones contributed to make SOLYD one of the most active and dynamic real estate development platforms in the Portuguese market in just 6 years.

Aiming to reinforce its market leadership, SOLYD is focused on expansion in different segments. It recently acquired its first office project. It is also developing a pioneering build-to-rent platform.

We are offering a professional internship to a young newly graduated civil engineer, giving her/ him the opportunity to manage the after sales of our already delivered units, which will be around 500 by the end of the year.

The responsibilities will include evaluating the clients' complaints, perform a technical analysis, interaction with all the involved parties, namely the contractor, service providers, condominium management,... to ensure all the issues correction and customer satisfaction.

We offer an excellent work environment with a good technical support which will allow the technical and professional growth.
